News

Robin Class have continued their season's theme; they have enjoyed exploring 'Serenas seasons' sensory story and this week focussed on summer. They created summer trees as well as making a summer sensory bottle. They have been busy making gifts for the special women in their lives. They had fun on World Book Day sharing books in our reading corner.

ROBIN CLASS

Monkey Class started the week being a weather forecasters, naming the weather they saw and observing how the clouds release the rain when they get heavy. In Science, they have worked on material properties. They enjoyed our reading den, reading a book in the den.

MONKEY CLASS

Alpaca Class enjoyed sharing books and audio stories in our class reading corner as part of World Book Day. In Maths, the children have been measuring length using non-standard units. They have been exploring different types of weather in K&U. They have been investigating why towers have a wide base in DT.

ALPACA CLASS

Dragonfly Class had a wonderful week! Our highlight, as always, was World Book Day. As part of our celebrations, we had a competition to build the cosiest 'reading den' and spent a lovely afternoon reading on cushions under a parachute! Pupils have continued to impress with their work on story endings in English, and plant structures in English.

DRAGONFLY CLASS

In English, we looked at different endings to a story and decided what category it was. In Maths, we developed our knowledge of reading the right scale on jugs. In Science, we looked at products and decided on new materials to make them out of depending on their properties. In History, we looked at what jobs were needed to build the pyramids. We enjoyed practicing putting slings on in Life Skills and planting some seeds with Wombats and Sea Turtles in Forest School.

FALCON CLASS

SECONDARY

News

Wombats started their week with a trip to the church for their Easter Journey. They participated in activities teaching about the key events at Easter and enjoyed the singing. In History, they learned about the prehistoric houses found at Skara Brae and used Lego to represent the small buildings. In school we have enjoyed celebrating World Book Day, building a cosy den in the classroom!

WOMBAT CLASS

Hippo Class worked hard in History creating a news report and pretending to be archaeologists. In Science, they continued to discuss ways to reduce food waste. In Art, students explored the work of Henry Moore and made miniature clay sculptures inspired by his art. In Maths, we looked at fractions and we learned about halves, thirds, and quarters. We played Fraction Dominoes matching fractions to the shaded equivalent. That was fun!

HIPPO CLASS

In English, students started to write the instructions to their computer game. In Geography, they looked at the different land-use in Whitby. A visitor came in to talk to the class about managing their emotions. They had some great discussions. In PSCH, the children looked at the 5 Ways to Well-being. World Book Day was fun – pupils made a great den in the library to help us read for pleasure. The class also did some quizzes and some other activities. In PE, students had a choice of Badminton, Archery and Polybat.

SEA TURTLE CLASS

Gorilla Class enjoyed describing the chocolate room in Charlie and the Chocolate Factory in English. In Science, we went around the school doing a survey to find out how eco-friendly our transport choices are. On World Book Day we spoke about our favourite books – Funny Bones was a clear favourite, and we did quizzes to 'Guess the Book!' Lovely week!

GORILLA CLASS

Another whirl wind week has whizzed by (like the alliteration?) Pupils have been practising their money skills by working out 'how rich is Fish?' and then counting coins or working out change from written problems. In English, they looked at how paragraphs are constructed and sorted statements into themed groups. World Book Day was lots of fun. We watched a live lesson, and the pupils enjoyed their reading den.

LONSDALE

This week in TD Class, we have been learning a lot about our subjects. In Science, we have been delving into the Archean Period and examining which gases were present in the atmosphere and which were missing. In Geography, we looked into how small changes can help reverse climate change and discussed the discoveries we made during the Covid-19 pandemic. In English, we have been proof reading text to decipher mistakes. In World Book Day, we listened to the story 'The world's worst teachers.'

We have enjoyed watching Charlie and the Chocolate Factory in our English lessons and thinking about the characters in the film. In Maths, we have been learning to use a ruler to measure objects. We have thought about materials we will need to make our 3D seasons model in Science. In RE, we made stained glass windows and looked at things found in churches. On World Book Day, we listened to some of our favourite stories.

Lynx Class had a very busy week. In Maths, we looked at fractions and we learned about halves, thirds, and quarters. We played Fraction Dominoes matching fractions to the shaded equivalent. That was fun! In Vocational we deepen our knowledge about the famous Ancient Greeks. We also enjoyed celebrating World Book Day, building a cosy den in the classroom!

In Computing this week, we have been learning about variables within Scratch (a type of programming software) and how to differentiate between types of loops. This helps to develop problem solving skills. In PSHE, we explored what professionalism is and how to act professionally at work and school. We also explored issues where people have been discriminated against at work due to protected characteristics.

Last Friday, our Governor, Julie, visited to spend some time with pupils during lunch and to see some of our new music recording equipment in use! She had a wonderful time listening to pupils sing, play instruments, and be creative and felt that the new equipment was money well spent! Julie would like to thank all the pupils involved in her visit for a wonderful afternoon.
